CHURCH INTELLIGENCE.

A TABLET UNVEILED.

A service was held in the Goodwood Presbyterian Church on Sunday afternoon for the purpose of unveiling a tablet in honor of 39 present and past teachers and members of the Sunday-school who have en-listed for the war. The Mayor of Unley listed for the war. The Mayor of Unley (Mr. T. E. Yelland) and councillors wern present. Two of those honored have been wounded. Leutenant A. H. Fraser, wha had charge of a section of the 12th Battalion, was one of the landing party on Apr. 25. He led his men till 9.30 a.m. that day, when a builet struck him in the thigh. He was conveyed to the beach; clothes. dressing station and afterwards sent to Egypt. He was back in the firing line from May 20 to May 24, but is now in hos-pital at Malta suffering from a slight pital at Malta suffering from a slight attack of enteric fever. Private Aitkin, marshal in F Company of the 10th Battalion, which was merged into A Company, was the second of the Sunday-school main bers to be wounded. He was shot in the thigh about 3.30 p.m. on the famous landing day. On June I he was sen, to Egypt When last he wrote from the trenches Private Aitkin said he was "doing his little hit." Another of the young men. J. Hacvey, was in the Australian unit of the Naval Brigade which captured German New Guinea and the German possessions in the Pacific. He returned to Adelaida and joined the Australian Naval Bridging Train as a leading seaman. As far as is known the train landed in India just prior to the late trouble with a section of the Indians in that country. No word concerning the whereabouts of the train has been received.

The Rev. R. Mitchell presided at the service and welcomed a small squad of soldiers, which comprised Major Smeaton. M.P., and save 74th Battalion, and seven or eight officers of the

When the roll of honor was unveiled by two little girls, Misses Mona Harvey and Marjorie Ilili, the tablet was presented to the church by Mr. M. F. Culliford on be-balf of the Sunday-school. Mr. Mitchell accepted the table, on behalf of the congregation. Major Smeaton spoke of the importance of the roll of honor as an object lesson to the young people, who, when they saw it, would know the men whose names were on the tablet had done their duty. Civiisation was at stake in the European struggle, which was a titanic conflict be-tween right and wrong. The world owed a debt to old Germany, in so far as great reformers had come from that country, but the present Germany was a country with a new spirit.

The Mayor of Unley congratulated the school upon having had so many scholars who had responded to the call.

The collection, which amounted to £7 10', will be devoted to the purchase of hot 10', will be devoted to the purchase of hot water bottles for the returned wounded coldiers. Private A. N. Henderson and Mr. L. Stace rendered vocal items.

A MEMORIAL WINDOW.

A memorial window was unveiled on Sunday morning in St. Peter's Churca. Gleneig, to the late Mr. James Francis Cudmore and his wife, the late Mrs. Cud-more, of Paringa Hall, Somerton. The window is on the west front, and depicts the Saviour raising the only son of the widow from the dead. The design was widow from the dead. The design was the work of Messrs, Heaton, Butler, and Bayne. The ceremony was performed by the incumbent (Rev. J. Lumsden), who spoke of the interest Mr. and Mrs. Cudmore had taken in church work. In the more had taken in church work. In the beautifying of the church Mr. Cudmore had been liberal, and in his will had bequeathed the picture of the "Last Supper," which was in the chancel of the church. Mrs. Cudmore had been a consistent church worker, and had taken a deep interest in all that appertained to the church.
