There was again a large attendance of volunteers on the Domain on Saturday afternoon for the purpose of completing the final arrangements in connection with the Soldiers' Memorial-avenue. Many had brought hammers in order to construct the remainder of the tree guards, but it was found that no nails had been supplied, and therefore this section of the work will be completed during the week, in time for the formal ceremony which takes place on Saturday afternoon. It is hoped that any omissions from the above list of names, or alterations, will at once be supplied by relatives to the returned soldiers' headquarters, City-hall, so that they can be rectified before Saturday.
